Global Change Graduate Student Fellows Host Seminar Series

The objective of the SE Climate Science Center seminar series is to facilitate university-wide conversation about the many aspects of climate change issues including drivers, effects, and uncertainty, and to foster a broader global change community across campus. "Snapshots of a Changing Climate: A Narrative of a Tropical Ecologist", will occur on November 16 at 4:00pm in David Clark Labs 101. Following a seminar by freelance photographer, Sean Graesser, guests will enjoy refreshments and NC State's own wasp/bee yeast beer-"bumblebeer", while browsing a pop-up gallery in the DCL Atrium.

Details about upcoming SE Climate Science Center seminars can be found at <https://globalchange.ncsu.edu/global-change-news/>.

TA Soiree

The annual TA Soirée is scheduled for Thursday, November 16, 6:00-9:00pm at Raleigh Brewing Company. There should be plenty of pizza, so please come out and support us! (Recall that, although the event is for TAs and their networking, this isn't strictly enforced.)
